At a prime dockside spot on Bay Street, chef Melissa O'Donnell's Sag Harbor Kitchen will feature plenty of seafood: lobster, steamers, whole grilled branzino—alongside vegan offerings, steaks and burgers. (The place will offer a limited menu starting on Memorial Day until it officially opens in mid June.) The focus of the wine list is coastal, from the North Fork to the West Coast, South America and Europe. Prepare to fight for seats on the outdoor deck, which will be dotted with fire tables and lounge seating.

The restaurant is opening in partnership with Kittch, the streaming cooking platform. Along with a series of cooking classes and guest chef pop-ups, look out for live streams from Sag Harbor Kitchen.

Slated to open: June 15
